THE LORD'S DAY AT HOME

If you are housebound or self-isolating at this time, please use these readings to unite yourself with the worship of the Universal Church, and your own Parish, this Sunday. If alone, read or say these readings quietly to yourself. If with another, or in a family, someone should read the Gospel, and others respond. It might be suitable to find a special, quiet place at home for your Sunday prayers.

Gospel

Mark 1:1-8

The beginning of the Good News about Jesus Christ, the Son of God. It is written in the book of the prophet Isaiah: "Look, I am going to send my messenger before you; he will prepare your way. A voice cries in the wilderness: Prepare a way for the Lord, make his paths straight." and so it was that John the Baptist appeared in the wilderness, proclaiming a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins. All Judaea and all the people of Jerusalem made their way to him, and as they were baptised by him in the river Jordan they confessed their sins. John wore a garment of camel-skin, and he lived on locusts and wild honey. In the course of his preaching he said, 'Someone is following me, someone who is more powerful than I am, and I am not fit to kneel down and undo the strap of his sandals. I have baptised you with water, but he will baptise you with the Holy Spirit.'

Reflection

Cribs – or Mangers or Nativity Scenes – comes in all shapes, styles and sizes, from the tiniest that can be contained in a matchbox to life size versions in Cathedrals and public squares. But though they are all different, they all have the same "cast": Mary and Joseph, the baby, one or more shepherd with assorted sheep, an ox and an ass, and probably three wise men with at least one camel. One figure that you are not likely to see in a nativity scene is John the Baptist. Now while this is entirely understandable (since he was only a six-month-old baby himself when Jesus was born) we welcome John the Baptist into our Advent journey this week and next. Every year he fills up two Sundays so close to Christmas! He is calling us to recognise something important: Christmas is not just the birth of a baby, but the birth in the flesh of the One who is to come – the Lamb of God, who takes away the sins of the world, the one who baptises with fire. There are many people who will gaze at a crib this season and feel sweet and moving thoughts at the baby born in such circumstances – but are we willing to look where John points, and see beyond the baby to the mighty God of heaven who empties himself for us? And if we can glimpse that, what must we do to prepare his ways, to make his paths straight?

Prayer for Spiritual Communion

My Jesus, I believe that you are present in this Holy Sacrament of the altar.

I love you above all things and I passionately desire to receive you into my soul.

Since I cannot now receive you sacramentally,
come spiritually into my soul
so that I may unite myself wholly to you now and forever. Amen.

JUST FOR A LAUGH... The local news station was interviewing an 80-year-old lady in Ardrossan because she had just married for the fourth time. The interviewer asked her questions about her life, about what it felt like to be marrying again at 80, and then about her new husband's occupation. "He's a funeral director," she answered. "Interesting," the newsman thought. He then asked her if she wouldn't mind telling him a little about her first three husbands and what they did for a living. She paused for a few moments, needing time to reflect on all those years. After short time, a smile came to her face and she answered proudly, explaining that she had first married a banker when she was in her 20's, then a circus ringmaster when in her 40's, and a clergyman when in her 60's, and now - in her 80's - a funeral director. The interviewer looked at her, quite astonished, and asked why she had married four men with such diverse careers.

(WAIT FOR IT)

She smiled and explained, "I married one for the money, two for the show, three to get ready and four to go."

✠ Miracle of the Holy Night

Once upon a time, many, many years ago, an old shoemaker and his wife lived in a tiny cottage. This humble shoemaker had few worldly possessions, but whatever he owned he shared with others. Symbolic of his generosity and love of his neighbour was a lighted candle he placed in the window of his cottage which, every night, shone forth as a welcome sign of hospitality to any weary traveller in search of shelter. War and near destruction fell upon this little village - but never once did the little candle fail to send its beams as a message of hope and cheer to all. Somehow, the shoemaker and his wife suffered far less than the other villagers. It seemed there was a special love guarding both of them. Discouraged and weary, the village peasants gathered together one evening to discuss the shoemaker's fortune. "Surely there is something special about him: He is always spared from all misfortunes. What does he do that we do not do?" "Perhaps it is his little candle!", said one of the villagers. "Let us all put a candle in our windows too, this Christmas, and see if that is the mysterious secret!" Now, it so happened that the day of the peasant's meeting was the day before Christmas, and the first night that a candle was lit in the window of every home was Christmas Eve. The candles burned all that night. When morning came, a soft mantle of snow covered all of the village and an air of hope and contentment filled the hearts of all the villagers. Before the first ray of the morning sun, a messenger rode into the village to bring the great news - the war was over, peace had come! Tiny silver church bells chimed - never before had there been such a feeling of Christmas glory and joy as there was on that day. The peasants were awed: "It was the candles," they whispered. "It was the candles! They have guided the newborn Saviour to our very doorsteps of our homes and families and have brought an answer to all of our prayers. We must never again fail to light our candles when we celebrate the Miracle of the Holy Night!"
